MODIFY 10 DAY CLAUSE

With the aid of a morning session the National League brought its annual meeting to a close at the Waldorf-As-toria early last night. The league took a determined stand on various issues. It went on record favoring a split of the world's series purse by which practically every player in the league would get a share, declared itself in favor of a wholesale reduction or players' salaries and the practical elimination of the 25 cent bleachers again. Yale's football management must be very anxious to get Amherst to accept a place on its schedule for next season. The Elis sent four telegrams to Amherst the other day, but the Amherst faculty cent bleachers, again recommended to the National Commission Charles H. For running from the plains of Mara-thon to Athens with the news of the great victory over the Persians way back in 490 B. C. Pheidippedes, the Greek youth who accomplished the feat, was rendered immortal in living bronze by the great sculptor Phidias. The bards composed enjoy in his bonne. Many the great sculptor Phidias. The bards composed epics in his honor. Many years afterward Browning wrote a great poem about him and as a commemoration of his run the Marathon race was installed on the Olympic Games programme as the blue ribbon event.

Yet to-day over a snow covered, wind swept course and under weather conditions that probably would make Pheidippedes shiver in his sandals several stored limbed, strong lunged seniors old enough to be a father of Pheidippedes were he alive to-day, will race over a like distance in the annual Yonkers Marathon.

A. A. U. will permit them. There is a strong possibility the A. A. U. officials will order the Mercury A. C. unde-whose auspices the race is to be held, to shorten the course to fifteen miles. President Rubien of the Metropolitan Association said yesterday that he would have a representative go over the You kers course this morning, and if in his opinion the trail is too snowhound he will order the course shortened to fifteen miles. Rublen said the course would either be shortened or the race pos-

The Mercury A. C. will protest strongs against any such action by the A. A. officials. They question the right of A. A. U. to compel them to make a such move. They point out the fact that the entry blanks stated the race would be run as scheduled, under no matter what weather conditions.

"I have come all the way from Cal-cago to compete in this run," said 1831 Kennedy, the Illinois bricklayer, last night. "and any postponement would mean I would be unable to compete. I can't go back to my business in chi-cago and come back here again. A postponement would be a grave injus-tice to the twenty or more runners who like myself have come a long way to compete here.'
